St Just & Land's End

Sennen Cove

The impressive headland of Pedn-men-du shelters the beautiful Whitesand Bay with its glorious beaches of Gwynver and Sennen Cove and a quaint fishing harbour that is home to the RNLI. Known locally as 'the bay where dolphins play', the sandy beaches are family friendly and are popular for surfing, swimming, sunbathing or just relaxing.

Cape Cornwall

Crowned by a striking mine stack, Cape Cornwall, the only cape in England, is a National Trust landmark with peaceful Priests Cove and Cot Valley providing tranquil boulder beaches to explore at low tide.

St Just

At the heart of the community is the welcoming town of St Just. The Plen-an-Gwary (place of the play) in the centre of the town is one of only two surviving outdoor medieval amphitheatres in Cornwall and is still in regular use. Shaped by its industrial mining past and the most westerly town in England, St Just has a wide range of independent shops, pubs, cafes and galleries. St Just's Lafrowda Festival in July is a fantastic celebration of community arts. Both Pendeen and St Just offer free parking.

Lands End

The South West Coast Path leads inevitably to Land's End. The breath-taking beauty of this legendary and dramatic rocky outcrop is testament to the power of the Atlantic waves. The most westerly point in Britain, Land's End was the iconic starting point for the London 2012 Olympic Torch Relay.

Porthcurno, St Buryan & Lamorna

Porthcurno with its spectacular granite cliffs and fine sandy beach has the added delight of the world famous open air Minack Theatre. Along the coast, a lush, wooded valley leads to the lovely harbour of Lamorna. Step inland to the village of St Buryan and the countryside provides a contrast to the dramatic north with rolling valleys and a wealth of ancient monuments including two of the finest prehistoric stone circles in the country.

Botallack, Pendeen & Morvah

North of Cape Cornwall is a spectacular section of dramatic coastline that is home to Pendeen Lighthouse and the St Just Mining World Heritage Site. Highlights include Geevor Tin Mine, now a working museum, Levant Mine and Beam Engine and Botallack with the famous landmark of the Crown Mines. Pendeen itself is a lovely granite mining village with a range of local shops, pubs and a farmers' market. By taking the scenic coast road from St Ives to Land's End, through the neighbouring villages of Morvah, Botallack and Trewellard you will find many galleries and pubs to enjoy en route.
